This just in :

When real shit starts Proud boys die first. It’s ok someone has to be first . It’s always the loud mouths with air soft shit on.

I’d rather be the silent killer than the loud mouth dead

I hope not but you're right in the sense that someone has to be first. Hopefully not the first casualties but first to create the idea of mass people standing against tyranny. I applaud them for that. I als agree with you, id rather be the gray man in the background that can both take care of the enemy & return home. Whether that happens or not who knows but I like it when the chances are in my favor.
